On behalf of the pharmaceutical company JSC Olainfarm, we would like to express our gratitude to Webpromoexperts, its manager Anton Voronyuk and a team of experts for conducting a comprehensive digital marketing training for our company.

The training consisted of 12 blocks that were able to bring our employees, marketers and not only, to a completely different level of understanding the use of digital tools in such a complex business area as pharmaceutical marketing.

The training was designed taking into account our wishes, expectations and, most importantly, taking into account the peculiarities of pharmaceutical digital marketing.

Experts were able to find an individual approach to representatives of various markets for their needs and level of expertise.

An additional convenience was the use of an LMS system, which provided a convenient, continuous learning process for each participant. We also express our deep gratitude to the training support team, who were ready to help, support, show and train our colleagues on all requests

We wish the Webpromoexperts team further development and look forward to cooperation in various areas of digital marketing.
